Last weekand, my famili decided to visit the zoo. We woke up early in the morning and packed our lunch in a big bag. My little brother was very excited because he wanted to see the elephants. When we arrived, we bought our tickets at the entrance. First, we visited the monkies who were jumping and playing in their cage. Then we walked to see the big cats. The lions were sleeping under a three, but the tigers were walking around. My sister took many picures with her camera. At lunch time, we found a nice spot near the lake and ate our sandwishes. After eating, we went to see the birds. There were colourful parrots and big eargles flying around. My brother laughed when a parrot said 'hello' to him. Near the end of our visit, we finally saw the elephants. They were huge and very friendly. One elephant even spreyed water with its trunk! We had a wonderfull day at the zoo and took the bus back home. Everyone was tired but very happy.
